Among those national issues that will be raised will be the implementation of block grant programs, capital punishment, job training programs for the unskilled and unemployed, Affirmative Action, minority business development/economic development, school desegregation, the impact of Reaganomics on state budgets and the still growing unemployment crisis that has reached the highest level since the Great Depression.

PROPOSAL TO MAKE MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. BIRTHDAY, MEMORIAL HOLIDAY

Legislation honoring the late Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. has been introduced in Washington's House of Representatives by Rep. Art - Wang D-Tacoma (27th District). The bill is co-sponsored by Re. Ruth Fisher D-Tacoma (27th District), Rep. Bill Smitherman D-Tacoma (26th District) and others.

The proposal would make the slain civil rights leader's birthday a memorial holiday for state employees and schools. King was born in Atlanta on January 15, 1929, and would have celebrated his 54th birthday this year.

To honor the late Dr. King, Rep. Wang invited the Rev. Leo C. Brown Jr. from Tacoma's True Vine Community Church to deliver the invocation to the House of Representatives on Fri. January 114. The House also passed a floor resolution in memory of Dr. King which Rep. - Wang and Rep. Fisher sponsored. A similar proposal passed in the Senate.

Rep. Wang is serving his second term in the House of Representatives and introduced similar legislation during the last session, which would have made Dr. King's birthday a state holiday. Sen. George Fleming D-Seattle (37th District) has introduced similar legislation in the Senate.

TED HALEY SUPPORTS EXEMPTIONS FOR FAMILIES OF MILITARY PERSONNEL

State Sen. Ted Haley says that spouses and dependent children of active-duty persons stationed at Fort Lewis and McChord Air Force-Base should be exempted from payout our-of-state tuition when they attend college.

"Due to the nature of their jobs, military people move more frequently than others. It is difficult for them to build up residency. My measure would ease some of the financial burden these families encounter when they seek an education," Haley said.

The measure also exempts graduate students who are employed at least part-time as teaching assistants or researchers from paying out-of-state tuition.

In another action involving education, Haley has sponsored a measure that would require potential public school teachers to pass a knowledge test.

The test would assess reading, writing and mathematical abilities, along with knowledge of social, academic and physical development of students.

If it becomes law, potential teachers applying for certification after June 30, 1984, would have to take the test.

Haley added that he believes education to be "the finest investment that can be made in our state's future."

NORM DICKS OPPOSES FREEZE ON FEDERAL & MILITARY PAY

The proposed freeze in pay levels, combined with steep reductions in retirement and medical benefits, "demonstrates a complete lack of sensitivity by the Administration for its employees," Dicks said. He noted that federally-employed workers earn wages which are already 20 percent below comparable private sector salaries.

In addition, freezing pay for military personnel at this time would reverse the Administration's commitment to providing comparable pay for the services, he said. It would end up costing us more in our recruitment and retention efforts--affecting readiness--than we would save, he said.

Dicks, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said he will oppose the plan which, he said, makes federal employees scapegoats for the failed economic policies of the Administration.

"We would be fooling ourselves if we thought we could make the necessary budget reductions without affecting those major weapons systems," he said.

Dicks said he will urge colleagues to oppose the pay freeze proposal during consideration of the FY 1984 budget resolution, and said he is confident that the House will approve a "fair compensation increase" for federal civilian and military personnel.

SENATOR GRANLUND SEEKS TO REMOVE OBSCURE LEGAL FLAW

Legislation to remove a 20-year-old flaw in the state's support enforcement code has been introduced by Senator Barbara Granlund, D-Port Orchard, and is headed for the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The glitch was discovered when a Kitsap - County woman complained to the prosecutor's office that her ex-husband, also of Kitsap County, had stopped paying child support.

The prosecutor reported that he could not legally enforce the support requirement if, according to the wording of the law, the two parents lived in the same county.

"No one knows for sure why there is no authorization for the prosecutor to enforce support payments when the former spouses live in the same county," Granlund said. "Apparently, a problem with this aspect of the law had not surfaced before."

Al Davies BOY'S CLUB.

RODNEY CLARK

The Al Davies Boys Club's Drama department will be producing two segments from the T.V. Comedy series of "Good Times" by Norman Lear.

"Good Times" starred Esther Rolle, John Amos, Jimmie Walker, Bernadette Stanis, Ralph Carter, and Janet Dubois. The two segments the Drama department will be producing are "J.J. the Junior" and "Getting Up the Rent".

In the first episode of "J.J. the Junior", - Micheal and Thelma are honor students, but J.J. comes home with all C's and an A the Evan's family can't figure out how J.J. earned his grades, so James and Florida decide to to see J.J.'s principle.

The Evan;s find out that their son is just being pushed through school and they want him to remain in the 11th grade so he can learn something, but J.J. doesn't want to be retained.

The entire segment is hilarious and can be enjoyed by an entire family. In the second segment of "Getting up the Rent", the Evans Family is faced with eviction notices unless the rent is paid immediately. This segment explains how all family members stick together in the hardest times to make ends meet. Both segments are worthwhile for the enjoyment of the entire Community.

"Good Times" will feature local actors and actresses from Al Davies Boy's Club and the Hilltop Community. The cast includes: Phyliss - Harris, Darryl Dixon, Brett Hampton, Olivia - DeCoursey, Teresa Moore, Curtis Dudley, Joylan Netter, Richard Hichen, Paul Waller, and - Ron Thomas Jr.

Comments from the Director of "Good Times" which is yours truly are as stated: We have an excellent cast that is molding into a "Dynomite" production.

This community has gobs and gobs of talent just waiting for an opportunity like this show to express themselves. Most of the cast are heavily experienced in the field of theatre and that "experience is relating with some of the other cast members in a unique way.

My advice to people in this community is "Don't miss "Good Times" because this play is an experience you'll never forget! Showtime is February 24, 25, and 26th at 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at Al Davies Boys' Club.

A DIFFERENT FACE IN HIGH SCHOOL COACHING:

Today (Jan. 18th) I had the pleasure of speaking with Bennie Dillard, coach of the Lincoln High 'Abes' basketball squad. Ben Dillard has been with the Abes for the past three years as Science teacher, and assistant coach to ex-coach Ron Billing Sr., for two years, and head participant for one year. In the 81-82 season coach Dillard brought the Lincoln team to second place standing in the Narrows League and was eliminated from the play-offs by kent-Meridian High School.

In present season play Dillard coached his team to a Grid-Go-Round victory, and had a huge win over Interlake high of Seattle. In league play The Lincoln Team has been coming within a very small point margin of tasting the nectar of victory.

In the past regular season this year, the Lincoln team has made 'come backs' losing by only three or four points. This, he says is a result of his team "not being able to come together." The crux of the Abes squad are not all experienced organized ball players, some of which have made it up through the J.V. ranks.

There are only six players on the varsity team who have participated in junior high basketball; three from Gualt and three from Stewart.

Ben feels that he has a team of good players, and says that some of his standouts are John Evans, Rassmusen, John Dutton, Tim Dan, Tim Manson, and Joe McElory.

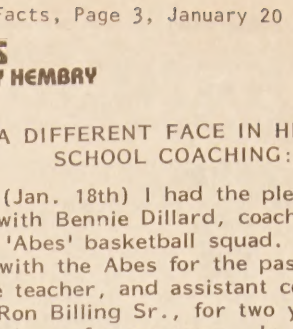
Dillard refers to McElory as a 'spot player', and has played well.

One of Lincolns toughest contests may be tonight against Bellarmine; but coach Dillard may have a tough time with the Lions this evening. Due to an outbreak of influenza he has suffered the loss of seven players, Rassmusen being one of them.

He says that: "Missing Rassmusen will hurt us, and I will have to bring some guys up from J.V. in order to win."

Coach Dillard feels that his main advantage will be his teams quickness, and speed, as far as his coaching abilitys are concern, Ben sees himself as a teaching coach, and his time with the team, also has giving him a learning experience.

Mr. Dillard is married and he and his wife are the parents are four girls.
Ben feels that after his duties are finished here. he will return to Texas and he says; "Iwould like to end up back at prairieview in some capacity. but in a very short time he will totaly rebuild, and surpase the reputation of the Lincoln Abes.



Dillard, Ben

1 CORINTHIANS 12

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.

Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed: and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy-Ghost.

Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.

And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.

But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom; to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

To another faith by the same Spirit; to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit.
To another the working of miracles; to another prophecy; to another discerning of Spirits; to another divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

But all these worketh that one and selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.

For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body so also is Christ.

For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free, and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

For the body is not one member, but many.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

AHA! "AIR CONDITIONERS INSTALLED ANYWHERE"!

PIERCE COUNTY BOARDS And COMMISSIONS

Approximately 300 Pierce County citizens are presently serving on one of the Boards and Commissions that were created to assist the County in administering programs or reviewing citizen appeals.

"Every year when terms expire or resignations occur, new members are needed to fill the vacancies. It is important that a representative cross section of the residents of the County make themselves available to serve on these groups," according to Pierce County Executive Booth Gardner. A bank of interested and qualified citizens will enable County Executive Gardner to select members, subject to Council confirmation, who fit the specific criteria of the individual Board or Commission and, at the same time, are as balanced as possible as to age, race, sex, background and location of residence. Applications are available from the Office of the County Executive (593-4415) and may be submitted at any time. These can be made for consideration on an individual board or in a general category of interest.

When vacancies occur, public announcements will be made through the media. All applications which are received or already on file will be reviewed and according to Pierce County Charter, all appointments will be made by the County Executive subject to approval by a majority of the County Council.

The announcement, selection and confirmation process takes approximately two months.

"I urge all interested citizens of Pierce County to apply and to become involved in their government," stated Gardner.

PRESIDENT'S YOUTH EXCHANGE INITIATIVE AIMS TO PROMOTE WORLD PEACE

Recently a Latin American exchange student named Fernando Gomez was leaving the American family he had lived with for a year. "I'm glad to go back to Colombia," he said, "but in my mind there will always be something of Nebraska."

On the other side of the world, another teenager, Teri Fishfader of C'oeru D'Alene, Idaho, was saying goodbye to the Japanese family with whom whe had spent the summer. "I feel as if a small part of me has become Japanese. This feeling I will treasure always," said Terri.

There two young people, like thousands of others who participate in international exchange programs, had unforgettable experiences in other lands. And their experiences changed their views of the world.

They say different ways of life and developed new understandings of other people. They will be wiser citizens of the world in the years ahead.

In June the President discussed his youth exchange idea with six of America's closest allies at the Versailles Summit Conference. As a result, plans are now underway to increase the number of students exchanged among the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Italy, France, Canada and Japan by 15,000 over the next three years, and later to expand the program to include other parts of the world.

The President has also asked a group of U.S. leaders in business, industry and education to help raise funds and publicize his Youth Exchange Initiative around the United States. Coy Eklund, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Equitable Life Assurance Society, is serving as Chairman of the President's Council for International Youth Exchange.

The President's International Youth Exchange initiative comes at an especially important moment. The younger generation in Europe, the United States and Japan knows only from history books about our shared sacrifices for freedom during World War II. A period of time in each others' coutries may remind them of our need to continue to defend our precious heritage as free societies.

With financial help from private industry and through the hard work of established private exchange organizations like the American Field Service, Youth for Understanding and the Experiment in International Living, our efforts should begin bringing more international students into the homes of America, Canada, Europe, and Japan by next summer.

And, we are hoping that each student who takes part in an exchange program will go home saying just what Elizabeth Elgin of Silver City, New Mexico, did after a summer with the Nita family of Tokoyo. "We have planted a seed and I can see in the future that seed growing and growing."

TO BE EQUAL

The violent outbreaks in Miami ghetto of Overtown at the end of the year provide a clear signal that America's racial tensions are growing, the result of the strains of the Depression, the mood of meanness blanketing the country, and the heritage of racial oppression and broken promises.

Sure, there were attempts to deal with problems such as the astronomical unemployment rates afflicting blacks. But little effort was made to show how many of the urban poor are trapped in a desperate situation with no help on the horizon.

With federal job, food and other survival programs cut mercilessly and a general atmosphere hostile to their needs, it is small wonder why the urban minority poor often feel and act as if they had no stake in our society.

Not only is the federal government cutting its urban programs heavily, but cities are slicing services themselves. A recent survey by the National League of Cities indicates that localities will not replace lost federal money.

In effect, the report is saying that racism is alive and well in America in the 1980s, almost twenty years after the civil rights revolution that brought limited gains but stopped far short of ending racism.

We as a nation have to take seriously the responsibility of creating a society that is fair and equitable and free from the poison of racism.

We cannot afford to take the selfdestructive path of excluding those who must be included if our society is to survive.

THE SPIRITUAL LIKENESS OF JESUS. SERIES #4

The Spiritual Likeness of Jesus is not bound by Race, Creed or Color.

When we go into the Spiritual attributes of God, the Spirit has no Racial thoughts or worldly ways. As it is recorded in St. John Chapter 4, Verse 24.-

God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

Now if you can see I have never seen the Spirit I have only felt the Spirit. Acts Chapter 2, VS. 1-4.-

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

It states the Spirit came as a rushing mighty wind. You can feel wind but cannot see wind.

MIGRANT AND SEASONAL AGRICULTURAL WORKER PROTECTION ACT CLARIFIES PREVIOUS FEDERAL AGRICULTURE LABOR LAW.

Migrant and Seasonal Agricultural Worker Protection Act (MSPA), signed by President Reagan Friday, replaces the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act (FLCRA). Unlike the earlier act, the new law makes a distinction between crew leaders and stationary employers. Under MSPA, stationary employers will no longer be required to register as if they were crew leaders or be subject to a wide range of regulatory requirements that were originally designed for crew leaders. They will be required, however, to comply with all provisions of the act setting protections for workers.

Secretary of Labor Ray Donovan, who called the act a significant improvement over FLCRA in protecting farm workers added, "This law broadens protections for migrant workers and insures that they apply, regardless of who the workers' employer is.

It also removes unnecessary regulatory burdens on growers, processors, and other stationary agricultural employers."

The protections include safety and health standards for housing and vehicles; advance disclosure of wages, hours and working conditions; receiving itemized, written statements of earning for each pay period, and maintenance of payroll records.

In addition, the act provides exemptions for family businesses, small businesses and labor unions, and deletes ambiguous language in the former law which became the source of extensive litigation.

The law will go into effect 90 days after signing and will be enforced by the Wage and Hour Division of the department's Employment Standards Administration; Joe Garcia heads the agency in the Northwest states of Alaska, Idaho, Oregon and WA.

A meeting is planned early this summer to acquaint affected workers and employers with the changes, according to Garcia.
